10-Engine B36 Crashes in Landing; 24 Dead

Three Injured In 14th Crash Of Big Bombers

Air Force Says Plane Was On Routine Training Mission

RAPID CITY, S. D. (AP)—A 10-engine B36 crashed and burned as it attempted a landing at Ellsworth Air Base and the Air Force said today that 24 men were killed.

Three men were injured and in critical condition at the base hospital.

It was the 14th fatal crash involving the intercontinental bombers—and the worst. A total of 132 men were killed in the previous 13 crashes of the big bombers, which have a wing-span of 230 feet, and are nearly as tall as a five-story building.

All three of the survivors, as were about half of the dead, were thrown out of the wreckage, which was scattered for more than a quarter of a mile over a pasture adjacent to the field.

The Air Force described the flight as a "routine training mission," but would not divulge where the plane had been.

There was no official comment on the cause of the crash. The weather was described as "good."

No names of the men aboard were released immediately, pending notification of next of kin.

The last of the B36s was delivered to the Strategic Air Command just two weeks ago today. The bombers, with a gross weight of 200 tons, have six pusher-type propellers and four jet, developing 44,000 horsepower, as much as 400 passenger cars and carry more than 21,000 gallons of gasoline.

Prior to Friday night's crash, the worst B36 crash occurred March 18, 1953, on the coast near St. John's, Newfoundland, while en route from the Azores here. Twenty-three men were killed, among them the general for whom Ellsworth Air Base was named.

Crash 2 Miles From Base
The crash occurred two miles northwest of the northwest runway of the base, about 10 miles from here.

The plane crashed in a field laced with large draws on a ranch operated by Alfred Swallow, adjacent to the field.

Swallow, 63, said he and his family were preparing for bed when they heard a "loud thud" at 10:10 p. m.

He and his son, Harold Swallow, 34, drove in a jeep across the field. The younger Swallow, who works in the parachute repair department at the base, told the United Press there was a "big explosion," followed by smaller explosions.

He said wreckage was scattered for about a quarter of a mile.

Judge Extends Injunction Against A-Strike
OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Atomic production workers at Oak Ridge and Paducah, Ky., worked today under a final injunction establishing an 80-day cooling off period under the Taft-Hartley law in their wage dispute.

A temporary injunction was issued Aug. 11 and it was made permanent for the 80-day period Friday.

Federal Judge Robert Taylor at nearby Knoxville extended the temporary injunction to forbid a strike during the nation's entire supply of uranium 235—a necessary ingredient in the manufacture of atomic and hydrogen bombs.

He had issued the temporary injunction Aug. 11 just a few hours before the workers intended to walk off their jobs. He halted the strike shortly after President Eisenhower said an atomic plant is one place where a strike cannot be tolerated.

The workers have demanded a 15-cent an hour wage boost while the Carbide and Carbon Chemical Corp., which operates the plants for the government, has stood pat on its offer of only a 6-cent-an-hour raise.

The current wage scale for the Oak Ridge and Paducah workers is $1.58 to $2.40 an hour.

State Announces Timetable, Exact Location for Building 470 Miles of Toll Highways

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Illinois Toll Road Commission has announced the exact location and building timetable for five toll roads totaling 470 miles.

The commission met in the offices of Gov. William G. Stratton Friday and approved locations of the routes within one-mile belts. The routes were proposed by two engineering firms making surveys for the commission.

After releasing a map showing the route plans to newsmen, the commission announced this progress plan for the 583-million-dollar building job.

Complete the engineering studies on cost and expected revenue to show financial feasibility by Nov. 15; start selling bonds to finance the projects by Jan. 1; and launch construction next summer.

The five toll roads will be located as follows:

1. East St. Louis to the Indiana line five miles west of Terre Haute. The route runs eastward along the northern edge of St. Clair County, then shifts to the northeast and generally parallels U. S. 40. It would cross parts of Madison, Clinton, Bond, Fayette, Effingham, Jasper, Cumberland and Clark counties, and run just south of the towns of Greenville, Vandalia, Effingham and Marshall.

At the western end, this road would hook up with a proposed expressway in the East St. Louis area planned by local authorities and the State Highway Division. On the east, it would connect with U. S. 40, which runs from Terre Haute to Indianapolis.

2. Quad-Cities to near Chicago. This shifts northward out of the Quad-Cities and comes within one mile of the Mississippi River across from Le Claire, Iowa, where a bridge could be built to connect with a proposed Iowa turnpike. Then the route swings eastward across Whiteside County, running just north of Sterling and south of Dixon. It crosses, then parallels and runs just north of U. S. 30, across Lee, De Kalb, Kane and Du Page counties, passing Aurora just to the north. On the east, it connects with another proposed turnpike circling Chicago.

3. Midway between Rockford and Belvidere to Chicago. This would run just south of Belvidere and north of Elgin, crossing Boone, McHenry, Kane and northern Cook County and also hooking up with the turnpike circling Chicago. At the eastern end, there would be a six-mile extension on the route now planned for the Northwest Expressway. At the western end, the commission contemplates a possible turnpike northward, if Wisconsin decides on a toll road running southward toward Rockford.

4. Chicago north to the Wisconsin line in the direction of Milwaukee. This starts at the northern edge of Cook County, west of Ill. 42A, and runs between U. S. 41 and U. S. 45 to the Wisconsin line. This would connect with a Wisconsin toll road if that state decides to build one from Milwaukee toward Chicago.

5. A belt-line around Chicago. On the north, this would start at the southern end of the Chicago-Wisconsin line route. It would run south, then shift southwest to follow the western Cook County border to north of U. S. 66, where it turns southeast and finally ends at U. S. 30 in the southeast corner of the county. Here it hooks up with the Tri-State Expressway, which runs into Indiana.

Commission Chairman Evan Howell said the announcement of the locations should avoid causing "any more great dislocation or disturbance" of property owners than "absolutely necessary."

He said property owners would be required to make "some sacrifices" but Illinois must build toll roads "to meet this challenge" of super-highways "pointed at us from every direction by neighboring states."

Joseph K. Knoerle, who has been directing surveys for the commission, said city and county clerks and realtors throughout the state will receive county-by-county maps on route locations within three weeks.

Dr. Franklyn Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church of America, wired Bentley that the invitation was a "clear impropriety." Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Washington, D. C., a retiring WCC president, said Bentley's action was "most unfortunate."

Oxnam said Hungarians came here on church business and don't want to get involved in "outside matters."

At Cleveland, where his committee heard testimony on Communist brutality in Hungary, Bentley said he understood the position of Christian churches under Communism was a specific item on the agenda of the Assembly here.

Bentley said he would be "very happy" to receive an invitation from Beresky to go to Hungary to examine religious freedom there.

Illinois to Draft 1,457 in October
Illinois will supply 1,457 men for induction into the Army in October, it was announced today by Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state director of Selective Service. This represents 63 per cent of the national quota of 23,000.

"This is the heaviest call we have received since October, 1953, except for the months of January and July when the calls were 1,478 and 1,462 respectively," Col. Armstrong said. He added that Illinois will probably be able to fill the October quota without inducting anyone under 21 except for volunteers of varying ages who wish to be inducted before their regular term.

Col. Armstrong pointed out that men are ordered for induction by their local boards in sequence of their birth dates, the oldest being ordered first.

He emphasized that a man who is deferred for any reason, such as a college student, automatically has his liability for service extended an additional nine years to the age of 35. Thus, he pointed out, every acceptable man must inevitably perform his two years of service as required by Congress.

State Police Car En Route to Crash Overtakes

A state police car en route to a crash overturned yesterday afternoon but its driver, Adolph Sweat, was not injured.

Officers reported that the car overturned when Sweat left the pavement to avoid hitting a truck which pulled out in front of him on Route 45 near New Burnside. Officer Sweat was en route to a crash near Vienna.

It was reported that Sweat had just topped New Burnside hill and saw a small truck driven by J. R. Reeder, 69, pull out of a gravelled driveway onto the highway in his lane of traffic. Three semi-trailer trucks were coming up the hill in the other lane and he had to leave the highway to avoid a crash.

The police car hit the loose gravel in the driveway, went up an embankment and overturned.

The top of the car and its right fender were caved in and the glass popped out of both the windshield and the rear window.

The late A. R. C. M. and George Wasson, well known citizens of Harrisburg, and Mrs. W. C. Cole, Fort Worth, Texas, Mrs. Will Hainlen, Trinidad, Colo., Mrs. Ed Qualenbush, Chicago, and Grover Wasson were brothers and sisters who have preceded her in death.

The body lies in state at the Turner funeral home where the funeral will be Sunday. The exact hour of the funeral will be announced on the Baptist Hour tomorrow morning. Burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery.

Palbearers will be nephews and cousins of the deceased.

C. H. Thompson Praises Rule By Eisenhower

Is Principal Speaker at GOP Night At Stonefort Reunion

Charles H. Thompson of Harrisburg last night reviewed the accomplishments of the Dwight Eisenhower administration and declared, "Eisenhower has given you peace and prosperity—no emergencies have been needed to keep the economy on a sound basis."

The former Illinois Supreme Court justice was the principal speaker at the Republican Night program at the Stonefort Reunion, which also featured an address by George B. Lee, GOP nominee for county judge. Robert G. Miley, chairman of the Saline County Republican Central committee, was in charge of the program.

Thompson first declared that the individual Republican and the individual Democrat march hand-in-hand under the same flag and he was not criticizing the individual, "but sometimes a leadership is mistaken, and then it is up to the people to act. One should not be loyal to his party to the extent of following it down the road to destruction."

Then he made charges regarding the condition of the Democratic administration at the time the Republicans took over 18 months ago. The charges included (a) being derelict in their duty on the issue of Communism; (b) concealment; (c) confusion; and (d) war and inflation.

Then he asked the question, "What has Eisenhower accomplished?" and went into the subject point by point.

First, he said, ceilings were removed. "The Democrats had said that if they were removed prices would go sky-high," he declared. "Eisenhower said to wipe them out and the only thing disturbed by the action was the removal of 46,000 pay-rollers from their price control jobs."

Eisenhower, he continued, stopped the war in Korea when the Democratic administration said it couldn't be done, bringing peace to the country and at the same time holding up the economy without benefit of emergency.

Dollar Stabilized
He also pointed out to Social Security improvements made under the GOP administration and said Eisenhower had stabilized the dol-

SALINE COUNTY OIL REPORT: 22 Oil Operations In County This Week

By BOB SKEELS

There are 22 operations in the county this week, three of them wildcat dry holes plugged and abandoned, and five first reports, two of which are wildcats beginning.

Slaughter Producing has plugged its No. 1 Evelyn Wesley, SE NW NW, 22-38-66, on the south edge of Raleigh at a total depth of 3031 through the McClosky limestone which carried a slight show of oil. When drill stem tested, it recovered only 270 feet of sulphur water with no signs of commercial oil.

Also drilled and abandoned, the E. H. Morris No. 1 Edwin Lewis, 36-76-66, just east of the Breuer and Robison production four miles northwest of Eldorado, plugged at a total depth of 2940 through the Aux Vases sand.

Richard W. Portis and Indiana Farm Bureau got a duster this week on their Barnes lease in 25-75-76, one mile east of Texas City, and just 330 feet west of the Gallatin county line. Total depth was 2935 through the Aux Vases sand with no shows of oil.

Wildcat Near Raleigh
In 35-75-66, Breuer and Robison have started drilling on their No. 2 Woolard-Irvin community, four miles northwest of Eldorado, with company tools. They were digging today below 1900. The same operator's No. 3 Woolard Heirs, and No. 3 Woolard Heirs community are both still locations.

R. H. Morris has started another rank wildcat one half mile west of Raleigh, on his Lloyd Guest lease in 21-38-66, more than four miles from other production. Bill Graef of Mt. Carmel is the geologist picking the tops and watching the hole. Ashland Oil and Refining, Q. B. Mitchell and Illinois Mid Continent have applied for a permit to drill another test on the C. E. Garner lease, 1-38-76, one mile south of Texas City, west of their production, near the Gallatin county line. Drilling should begin in a few days.

Re-Test Aux Vases
In 8-38-76, just north of Eldorado, James R. Grandin is re-testing the Aux Vases sand 2901-21 after running.

Cuts Price Supports on Surplus Crops

Action Marks Personal Victory for President and Benson

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed a new Republican farm law cutting government price supports on surplus crops.

The measure's most controversial section cuts away rigid price supports from five basic crops—cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts—for the first time since World War II.

These crops, now supported at 90 per cent of parity, will get government "flexible" props of from 82 1/2 to 90 per cent of parity next year.

Parity is a price calculated to give the farmer a fair return for what he sells in relation to the cost of things he buys.

The President's signature on the measure marked a personal victory for Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson over the congressional farm bloc.

Differ on Effects of Act
Both opponents and proponents of the bill agreed the new law would have deep and far-reaching effects on agriculture but differed completely on what those effects would be.

Supporters of the new law claim it will whittle down surpluses, lead farmers toward freedom from government control, balance production by putting higher prices on crops consumers want most and create a sound, free market for farmers.

Opponents claim it will plunge already declining farm income to new lows, might touch off a rural depression which could spread to cities and would not bring lower food prices to consumers.

Deep Cut for Wheat
Some supporters of the program expect increased backing from farmers who feed grains to meat and milk cattle because of expected lower feed grain prices.

Only wheat among the basic commodities will take a deep support cut under the new law. Its support level, about $2.24 a bushel at 90 per cent of parity, will drop to the 82 1/2 per cent floor, or about $2 a bushel.

The chief executive and Secretary of agriculture Ezra T. Benson fought a long battle with the farm bloc in Congress before winning approval of the legislation.

Mr. Eisenhower, who spent Friday fishing on a ranch south of here, scheduled a busy weekend of official business.

To Address Legion
In addition to acting on legislation awaiting his signature he also worked on a speech he will deliver at the American Legion convention in Washington on Monday.

The President will leave here by plane Sunday night arriving in the nation's Capital about 7:30 a. m. EDT Monday.

Following his address to the Legion at noon he will pick up former President Herbert Hoover for a few days fishing next week at Fraser, Colo.

The President and Mr. Hoover will stop off late Monday at the State Fair at Des Moines, Iowa, for a brief informal talk before continuing on to Colorado.

Dixon Springs Tour Sept. 14

Saline county farmers will have the opportunity to tour the Dixon Springs experiment station, Tuesday, September 14, starting at 9:30 at the Administration building at Dixon Springs.

Those who have been there in the past know that you pick up valuable information to bring home
to use.

Grass and legume pastures, rye,
winter oats, fescue, and orchard
grass mixtures will be observed.
Birdfoot trefoil, Lespedeza clover and other legumes attract interest to those on the tour.

The late rainfall should make the tour more interesting this season.

The beef herds and sheep flocks
on pasture will be worth seeing.
French silos, stack piling of silage will be observed. Plans are made to make this a very worthwhile tour. Lunch will be available at the restaurant at Robbs or local Home Bureau group. At least there will be a place to eat lunch if you do not care to take your own sandwiches. Mark this date on your calendar.

There should be more things to see this year than the last few years because of more favorable growing conditions during August.
There is more opportunity for good stands of fall-seeded grasses, legumes and small grain.

If you will let us know at the office that you are going, your name will be placed on the list for lunch. Try to go with us on this tour. Any interested person is invited.

You'll need to calibrate your row-crop sprayer for each field.

Outlook Meeting Sept. 23 Starts with Banquet at 6:15 p. m.

Plans are being made for a livestock banquet and outlook
meeting the evening of September 23, 7:30 p. m.

The meeting will be held in the Masonic Temple, Harrisburg, Illinois, and will start with a banquet at 6:15.

Jack Claar from the University of Illinois Agricultural Economics will be one of the speakers after the banquet. A discussion of market conditions, future price levels, costs, total production of farm commodities, foreign trade affecting farm prices and livestock marketing will be held.

Eddie Lamb of Livestock Producers will give his views on types of livestock to buy, length of feeding, date for profitable marketing and general prices to expect for feeder steers.

This meeting should be valuable
to a producer of crops or livestock.
Tickets will be sold for the banquet at the Farm Bureau office, or you may get them from the Farm Bureau director from your township. Those who desire to attend the meeting later may do so without cost.

This livestock and outlook banquet is being held at the request of several farmers who have asked for such a meeting. The final arrangements have not been completed as we must know before the meeting the number who want tickets for the meal.

Those who attend should be well informed about price trends and be better fortified to adjust their farming business for more profitable returns from the farm.

You are invited to take advantage of this educational meeting. Your responsibility is to make plans to attend the banquet or the meeting afterwards. It is for your information and benefit.

Corn Picker Check Now Saves Time

A preharvest season checkup on your corn picker can save you time and money, says Wendell Powers, University of Illinois agricultural engineer.

What's more, the fewer times your picker clogs, the smaller the chance you'll be injured while cleaning it. First check the gathering chains. They should be tight and have no broken or cracked links.

Snapping rolls that are badly worn won't do the job as they should, Powers says. If the snapping rolls are worn smooth and polished, replace them or have rough spots welded on.

Make sure the husking rolls are in good shape and the springs still have plenty of life, Powers says.
If you get the picker out and do the checking now, your dealer will be better able to supply parts or order needed ones before picking time.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

Some reference to transplanting flowering bulbs of hardy spring plants appeared in this column earlier. If you neglected to do the planting then it still is not too late.

Flowering bulbs which add much color and beauty throughout the area in the early spring fall into three general groups. There are plants, such as the narcissus, which produce true bulbs. Others, such as the canna, produce tubers. The crocus is an example of plants producing corms. After blooming most such plants continue leaf activity for a time to store plant nutrients in sufficient amounts for early spring growth. Then they lie dormant throughout the heat of summer and the cold of winter, ready to burst forth again to brighten the landscape with the first favorable signs of spring.

Winters in southern Illinois normally are mild enough so that many kinds of bulbs may be left in the ground without danger.
However, they do need to be transplanted occasionally to thin out the growth and keep the flowers large and vigorous. The dormant period in the summer and autumn
is the time to transplant.

The crocus may be transplanted from late June until autumn. Set them three inches deep at two-inch intervals. The snowdrop or galanthus may be planted about the same time, three inches deep and three inches apart.

Jonquils do well if set five inches deep and six inches apart. The narcissus thrives at six or seven inches deep and one foot apart.
Lilies may be planted a little deeper.
Tulips and hyacinths should be planted about six inches deep.

In heavy soils the bulbs need to be planted more shallow. In such instances the more tender type which cannot endure hard freezing must be dug and stored
during the winter for spring planting.

No time of the year strikes home to an individual the importance of saving surface soil as does a period of drought such as Illinois farmers have been experiencing this summer—and the last two summers.
Crops wither away and die first on eroded land where the surface soil is thin and has little water storage quality. Light showers soon vanish by evaporation and the water falling during hard showers runs off quickly without soaking down.

On the other hand, crops on land
where soil saving practices are carried out will continue to endure longer periods of drought and to be benefitted more by whatever rains may fall. Grass waterways, terraced or strip-cropped slopes, grassland farming on rolling acres, and protected woodland on rough land all help store water in the soil for plant use and hold the surface soil
in place.

Circular Gives Tips on Growing Of Red Clover

"You can't expect to grow a good crop of red clover by accident—it takes good management," says O. H. Sears of the University of Illinois Agronomy staff.

In a publication recently printed by the College of Agriculture, Sears outlines the conditions that will help you grow a good crop of red clover. This publication is Circular 727, "Growing Red Clover in Illinois."

Red clover is used extensively in Illinois as a forage crop. Much of the crop is used for hay, but in addition many acres are used for silage, pasture, seed and soil improvement.

The 8-page circular gives tips on raising good crops of red clover.
The information includes seed varieties, soil conditions, methods, rates and time of seeding and management practices for each of the uses of red clover.

You can get a copy of Circular 727 from your county farm adviser or from the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, Urbana.

Get the benefits from insecticides without the hazards by following the instructions for use printed on the package.

Damage starting many farmers in the face as a result of the summer's heat and drought it is urgent that they keep in mind some type of emergency measures for late fall and early spring pasture. Winter rye and winter oats offer two fine possibilities in most of southern Illinois. See the farm adviser or specialists in the agriculture departments of your state universities immediately for advice.

Marginal Farm or Marginal Farmer

There is a distinction between a marginal farm and farmer that is fine and hard to determine.

In order to have a truly marginal farm causes beyond the farmer's control must be at play. Causes that sound simple in word are not simple in effect. Most causes can be partially under the farmer's control. Too short a season for a paying crop, an average precipitation that is inadequate, land eroded badly, a bad site too far from markets or plant diseases are causes of marginal farms. The extent to which a farmer can keep these under control will prove part of his ability as a farmer. He may be able to grow a shorter season crop. Irrigation may be possible.
Some eroded land may be reclaimed at a profit. Perhaps he can find better marketing methods.
Many diseases can be controlled with chemicals.

Aside from these reasons, however, there are a large number of farms which are marginal because they are operated by a marginal farmer. This is the type of man who has never been able to set aside enough money to buy adequate supplies of lime and fertilizer. There are far too many farmers who leave machinery out all winter then complain of bad luck when something will not operate in the spring. There are lands which have become marginal due to erosion which could have been controlled by following good conservation practices including the application of minerals such as calcium and magnesium in the form of limestone as well as other fertilizers. Hillsides planted to corn, cotton or potatoes might have made excellent pasture but many farmers don't like to milk cows or raise beef. It is easier to move when the land is worn out. These men are truly marginal.

There is much that can be done toward making marginal lands productive but there is much more that should be done toward making marginal farmers productive.

Education must be the keynote in a drive that will eliminate the marginal farmer. Green pastures, cooperators, vocational teaching and good agricultural publications are aids
that will help to educate the coming generations. When youth knows the answers and follows the systems properly then the marginal farmer is on the way out.

BLUE-TONGUE VACCINE

A new road block for blue tongue, a sheep disease that is new in this country, is a vaccine developed jointly by California veterinarians, the USDA and an industrial laboratory. At California College of Agriculture, it gave 90 per cent protection to animals on which it was used, while 90 per cent of those not vaccinated were susceptible, reports Capper's Farmer.

ARE YOU NEEDING

A NEW TRACTOR?

There comes a time when it's just smart to figure on a New Tractor rather than get along with the old one. And if you are working with a tractor that's hard to handle, and too big for 80% of your farm jobs, it's just good figuring to trade it off and get a more efficient unit.

A TRACTOR doesn't have to be big and bulky to do most of your farm jobs. An average size tractor with an ample size engine and the Ferguson System of using this power properly will give you plenty of work capacity. We have proven this for years.

Now is the time to buy the Ferguson "30". You'll find it one of the best performers in the 2-3 plow class. Many tractors out-weigh it, but few ever outperform it in the field or on the belt. Come in and let us prove it.

IT WILL BE WORTH YOUR WHILE TO BUY NOW.

BITTER SAGE

A single box car stood on the west end of the siding. Seeing some men working in and out of the box car, Kinnaird strode over. Kinnaird recognized two of the men. They were brothers named Strasser who had settled on the prairie south of town the year before. They were loading furniture and farming implements into the box car.
"You're pulling out?" Kinnaird asked in surprise.
The older of the Strassers, a squat, heavy-set man of about 40, shrugged. "What else? We put in a hundred acres of wheat in the fall. A week ago it looked like it would run close to 50 bushel to the acre. Today there isn't a blade of it standing."
"Cattle!" snorted the other Strasser brother.
"But your farms were fenced in?"
"Were fenced in is right," said the other brother. "Them cowboys broke down the fences. We go to see the marshal and the judge yesterday. The marshal says it's none of his business what happens outside the town limits and the judge called us squatters and said we had no right to put up fences anyway. We know when we're licked. So do the rest of the farmers who settled here. They'll be pulling out one by one."
"Do either of you read the Sage City Star?" Kinnaird asked.
"Sure, we both read it all the time. Mr. Miller was on our side, but he's only one man and—we heard what happened to his paper last week. They broke up all his machinery and now he's out of business. So are we. We're going back to Illinois."
"You liked it here?"
"Sure, but we got families. We have to live where we can make a living."
"Would you stay in Sage City if, say, Luke Miller were elected mayor, if the county had a sheriff who would keep the cattlemen from breaking down the farmers' fences, and if there was a county judge who protected your rights?"
The younger Strasser guffawed. "That'll never happen around here."
"It might happen inside of two weeks," said Lee Kinnaird.
The older Strasser said, "Uh... If Luke Miller was elected mayor of Sage City, Jacob Fugger would have him killed."

Raleigh

Opal Goodson
Correspondent

A group from the First Baptist church and their pastor went to the Nursing home Sunday and conducted services which were very much appreciated by the patients.

School bells will soon be ringing, calling the children to another term in school which will begin Sept. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cain have purchased property and moved to Raleigh. We welcome them to this community. Mrs. Cain is the first and second grade teacher at the Raleigh grade school.

Mrs. Ruby Buck was a week end guest of Mrs. Essie Musgrave.

Recent callers at the home of Aunt Winnie Newcom were Mrs. Rhoda Yates, Mrs. Mary Elder, Mrs. Bernita Bishop, Mrs. Nova James, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Bishop and Mrs. J. Walter Duncan of Harrisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Williams had as guests recently her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Choiser of Chicago, also Hal J. Choiser and his friend, Shurf Hoganhop, of Chicago. While here they enjoyed a family picnic at Karel park with Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Choiser, Hal J. Choiser, Shurf Hoganhop, Fred and Cliff Choiser and Hal Choiser of Eldorado.

Miss Shirley Daniels, Miss Dorothy Barkledge, Miss Jean Minner, all of St. Louis, Mo., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Minner and family.

Recent callers at the home of Opal and Darlene Goodson were Mrs. Reba Tate, Miss Patti Williams, Miss Virginia Ruth Lomons, Mrs. Betty Reynolds, Mrs. Bill Lamb and daughter, Lela Ann of Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Tyree of Eldorado.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Tate of Raleigh and Mr. and Mrs. Amon Jones of Harrisburg have returned home from a vacation trip to Oklahoma visiting relatives and friends in Forgan, Okla. On their way they visited the Salt Plains in Annetoria, a small town where Mrs. Jones worked some 45 years ago. The people of Oklahoma extended to them a hearty welcome and drove with them over into Kansas. The farmers in Oklahoma are very hard hit by the drought. The group was entertained with a picnic supper on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lane with 14 present. On their way home they drove across Arkansas, Tennessee, a small town where they saw some beautiful crops of cotton, rice and tobacco. All reported a nice trip and expect to visit the Lanes again some time. On Sunday they attended Sunday school and church in Forgan, Okla.

The Office of the Chief of U. S. Engineers has informed Cong. C. W. "Runt" Bishop of this district that a report prepared at congressional request will soon be submitted to congress on flood control development of the Saline river.

The letter to Cong. Bishop said that at present there are no plans under consideration by the Corps of Engineers for navigation development of the Saline river at or near its junction with the Ohio river, nor is the Saline considered navigable.

However, it says, a report for flood control is nearing completion and will be submitted to congress. "Flood channel improvements recommended in the report, subject to certain conditions of local co-operation, would be located upstream from mile 17.2 on the main stem of the Saline river, well above the Ohio river, and also on the North, Middle and South forks," the letter stated.

"Construction will depend on congressional authorization and appropriation of funds. The proposed flood channel improvements, if authorized and undertaken, may provide some shallow depths suitable for small craft."

lar "so you now know what it will be worth when you wake up in the morning."

He said the United States dollar was worth 100 cents before the New Deal got hold of it and took it down to a value of 53 cents.

Mr. Thompson said the records would support the fact that Communists had infiltrated the government during the Democratic administration and that the charges that this had happened were laughable.

"It was political expediency to shield them," he added.

Then he pointed to the investigations of Communism under the GOP and of the results of the quizzing.

"Senator Joseph McCarthy has dug up more Communists in a short time than the Democrats did in 20 years," he stated.

In closing, Mr. Thompson praised

Two Girls Found Guilty of Killing Mother of One

Kiwanis All-Star
Nine Defeats
Stonefort, 6 to 4

The Kiwanis All-Stars defeated Stonefort, 6-4, yesterday in a game played at the Stonefort reunion.

Harrisburg scored twice in the first when Weatherly walked, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Nelson's squeeze bunt. McNew walked and scored on Spurlock's single.

Stonefort scored in the second on a double by Miller, a walk to Murphy and Redwine's hit. They picked up their final run on a single by Hoover and two errors, the only errors made by Harrisburg.

Harrisburg scored in the fourth on a single by McNew, a stolen base and an error of Hassett's hard smash. Weatherly walked and with some daring base running stole second and third and forced the pitcher to try to pick him off third. The pitcher threw wildly and Weatherly scored. In the seventh Jones walked, Weatherly was safe on an error and Nelson scored them both on a hit to center.

Lowell Vaughn, Dick Weatherly and Bill McNew pitched for the All-Stars and Hassett caught. Treet pitched for Stonefort and Redwine was the catcher.

The All-Stars play at Herrin today at 2:30 p. m.

Famous Trichologist Tells Truth About Saving
And Improving Hair

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Harrisburg, Ill., Sunday, Aug. 29, 1934. These private, individual demonstrations will be held at the Horning Hotel on Sunday Only, Aug. 29, 2 to 9 P. M.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 20 — In an interview here today, D. Russell Collins, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Collins Hair and Scalp Experts, Inc., said, "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

"The Collins firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offers a guarantee," Collins said.

Once a person avails himself to the Collins treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee. "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the Collins specialists are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless cases are few." Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Collins firm can perform wonders.

Every one is given a complete, private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATION

This examination is very thorough and highly technical; it requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary.

Nash to Play at Carterville Sunday

The Harrisburg Nash baseball club will travel to Carterville Sunday and tangle with the All Stars. This will be the second meeting of the season for these two clubs with Carterville the victor in the first game.

Nash will be seeking victory number 13 for the year and the fifth in a row.

J. Nolen or Parker will hurl for Nash with Bledig catching. Other starters will be Shevmake, Fulkerson, Karnes and Ziegler on the infield with K. Nolen, Harrison and Sisk or Stepleton ready for outfield play.

Game time is 2:30 p. m. and all players are asked to meet at the town park diamond not later than 12:45 to make the trip.

Merchants to Play Eldorado
Nine Here Sunday

The Harrisburg Merchants meet the Eldorado Merchants Sunday afternoon at the town park diamond in a battle for county prestige.

The Eldorado nine has been unbeaten by Illinois teams this season in a dozen starts and the local players have desires to shatter this claim.

The Eldorado team, sponsored by the businessmen of that city and managed by Red Stone, have dropped four decisions to Kentucky teams. Stone's battery will be either Malone or Bartnicki to pitch and Hartford catch. Bartnicki is a big six-foot-plus fast ball hurler who is new to the local fans and Malone is remembered best this season for his star performance against the Kitty league's Paducah Chiefs.

Either Wallace or Trammel will start for Harrisburg with Romanosky receiving. The club has added another newcomer in the person of Mat Whitmore, who will probably see considerable action the rest of the season. Whitmore, who has taken residence in Harrisburg from New York, has shown nice power in his left-handed swings.

All Harrisburg players are requested to be at the park diamond this afternoon at 5 o'clock for batting drill.

No Stock Car Races
Tonight Because
Of Muddy Track

There will be no stock car racing at the Saline Speedway this evening due to a muddy track, it has been announced.

Heavy rains during the early morning hours, plus the threat of continued rain throughout the day, made it impractical to attempt to carry through with the program.

Durocher Uses Pitching Aces Antonelli, Maglie Back to Back for Winning Hand

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Leo Durocher, an old card player from way back, was emerging with a pennant-winning hand today by working his aces back to back.

Sal Maglie and Johnny Antonelli of the Giants, the top one-pitching combination in the National league today with a total of 32 victories and only nine defeats between them, are now hurling in the same familiar tandem that Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn won fame for in sparing the Braves to a pennant in 1948.

Maglie, for example, registered his 13th victory of the campaign with a five-hit, 3-1 triumph over Milwaukee Friday night to keep the Giants 3-1-2 games out in front. On Thursday, Antonelli picked up his 19th triumph by beating the Cubs, 2-1, in the nightcap of a double-header.

Sixth Time This Season

Maglie's conquest of the Braves marked the sixth time this season and the fourth time since July 20 that the Maglie-Antonelli combination has produced back to back victories. No other National league pitching combine can match the combined record of the 37-year old Maglie and the 24-year old Antonelli.

Maglie gave up Milwaukee's lone run in the first inning, then steadied to hold the Braves scoreless the rest of the way. Conley, the loser, was nicked for two runs in the third inning on Wes Westrum's single, a fielder's choice, a sacrifice, an infield out and Don Mueller's double.

Dodgers Trim Cards, 8-4

The Dodgers came up with four runs in the 10th inning to beat the Cards, 8-4. Gil Hodges' infield single broke a 4-4 tie in the 10th after Walt Moryn had tied the score with a pinch two-run homer off Lawrence in the ninth. Bill Sarni hit a three-run homer for the losers.

Ted Kluszcwski's 27th homer with none out in the ninth off Max Surkont gave Joe Nuxhall of the Redlegs a 3-2 victory over the Pirates. A sixthinning triple play, triggered by third baseman Bobby Adams, helped Cincinnati win.

Gene Baker's 12th inning squeeze bunt scored Hal Jeffcoat and gave the Cubs a 4-3 decision over the

Only Backfield Shows Depth
In Experience as Calufetti
Prepares for 1954 Season

JACK DALE BACK

Jack Dale, varsity guard two years ago who was not in school last year, is returning to IHHS and will be out for football, it was learned today. His presence will strengthen the guard situation.

Harrisburg Township high school opens its 1954 football practice at 6 a. m. Monday and a survey of the list of those receiving equipment shows but nine boys with varsity experience.

And of this group, only five could be considered first stringers on last year's team that won two and lost six in the South Seven conference race.

First stringers back include Co-Capt. Eddie Seright at end, Jim Durham at guard, and Co-Capt. Charles Polk, Gary Trammel and Tony Beal in the backfield. Other boys returning are Russ McDowell, end, Fred Kinnaman, tackle, Gail Buchanan, center, and Jim Alexander, halfback.

First Game Sept. 17

Coming up from last year's freshman sophomore team are a number of boys who may or may not make the grade. Most promising include Fred McKenzie, Jack Wright, Joe Morris, Richard Hess, Lindell Stacy, Wayne Hefner, Ken Price, John Wilson, Ron Williams, Jim Williams, Mike Hays and Jack Norman.

First tilt will be at Murphysboro Sept. 17 and the inexperience of the squad shows that Coach Lawrence Calufetti has plenty of problems to overcome to be a contender. Gone from the squad are 12 lettermen who were graduated last spring.

Regarding the boys coming up from the frosh-soph group, Calufetti said he might do some experimenting on positions, that he might be using boys at positions other than those they played last year in an attempt to strengthen his weak spots. One of the biggest gaps is at tackle where Kinnaman, a good player, is all who is left with such boys as Bob Beal, Marshall Landis, Delmar McIntosh and Frank Chase, all exceptionally large lads, missing.

Nine-Game Schedule

Calufetti yesterday moved from his residence on Locust street to 1118 South Granger street. Gene Bland, head coach mentor who will assist in football, has moved to town, occupying the residence at 1017 South Main vacated by John VanderPlum, who has moved to McLeansboro to become head football coach.

The Bull Dog schedule:

Sept. 17—Murphysboro there.
Sept. 24—"Marion" here.

Oct. 1—Eldorado here.
Oct. 8—"Mt. Vernon" there.

Oct. 15—"Centralia" here.
Oct. 22—"Herrin" here.

Oct. 28—Assumption at East St. Louis.

Nov. 5—"West Frankfort" there.
Nov. 11—"Benton" here.

*Indicates Big Seven conference games.

All are night games except the Armistice Day tilt with Benton.

Pronto Don Fails To Break Record As Money Winner

WESTBURY, N. Y. — Old Pronto Don didn't make it Friday night at Roosevelt Raceway in the 9-year-old trotter's attempt to break the all-time record for money earned by a harness horse.

The 9-year-old gelding, owned by the Hayes Fair Acres Stable of Du Quoin, Illinois, was third behind Lord Steward and Lady Dunn in the $10,000 Indiana free-for-all trot.

However, Pronto Don's third place cut of the purse pushed his earnings to $315,673.96 and it won't be many races before the old star cracks Good Time's record sum of $318,792.55. Pronto is $3,118.00 under Good Time's figure, but he has a weekly schedule of free-for-all events at Roosevelt, with the main plum the $25,000 American Trotting Championship Sept. 16, and he is sure to become the number one money earner soon.

Lord Steward, owned by Ralph H. Kroening, Milwaukee, Wis., was raced third by driver Dick Williams until the middle of the stretch when he passed Katie Key, who slipped to fourth, and collared Lady Dunn in the last stride to win by a nose in 2:11.8 over the mile-and-a-sixteenth route. Lord Steward, a 7-year-old gelding, paid $10.60 to win.

Nat Holman Reinstated to CCNY Faculty

NEW YORK — City College officials welcomed Nat Holman back into "good standing" today but displayed little enthusiasm over reappointing "Mr. Basketball" as coach of the team he led to national prominence.

A source close to the college said officials at CCNY "are completely undecided" whether Holman would again coach the Beavers' basketball team and the 57-year old mentor himself was silent over his intentions.

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, president of the college, said in a formal statement he was "glad" Holman was reinstated on the faculty by the state commissioner of education in Albany but said the hygiene department would decide what job he would hold.

Professor Hyman Krakower, acting chairman of the hygiene department, said, however, that no disposition on Holman could be made until the September semester begins. Professor Krakower said the chairman of the department, Prof. Raymond Purcell, is on leave for the year and will not be back until early September.

Neither Gallagher nor Krakower offered a "personal opinion" about whether Holman should be given back his old job. Bobby Sands has coached CCNY's teams through a de-emphasized schedule since Holman was suspended by the New York City Board of Higher Education last March 3 following an investigation into basketball's "point-shaving" scandal.

Lewis A. Wilson, the state commissioner of education, ruled Friday that the New York City Board's suspension of Holman was based on evidence "insufficient to warrant his dismissal."

CHILDREN OF GOD

Three things mar the beauty of this picture. DIRT... POVERTY... and NEGLECT.

Dirt can be scrubbed away in ten minutes.

Poverty cannot destroy human character. It has bred some of our greatest men and women.

But neglect—for it there is neither cure nor consolation. It is the shadow of evil days to come.

Delinquency, immorality and crime can nearly always be traced to neglect. And not simply to the physical neglect so evident in this picture. Evil lives stem from the neglect of our children's spiritual needs. There are youngsters with clean faces and fine clothes who are being brought up in the soul-stifling atmosphere of a church-less home.

Our children are children of God. It is their sacred right to learn of their Father, and to see Him honored daily in their homes.

Parents, where will your children be on Sunday morning?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Growing Through Christian Service'

Galatians 6:1-2; James 1:22-27
GOLDEN TEXT: "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." (Galatians 6:2)

INTRODUCTION: We grow as Christians as we serve. If you are a Christian, God saved you to serve. The person who works at the job is the one who is growing. Christianity is not static; it is not passive. Christianity is active. If God had not wanted you to serve him in this life, my Christian friend, He would have taken you right on into heaven the moment he saved your soul. You were saved to serve Christ.

I HELPING A FALLEN FRIEND

(Gal. 6:1-2)
We are all subject to temptation. Remember, temptation is not sin. Yielding to temptation is sin. It is sad indeed when a Christian yields to temptation and falls into sin. That person hurts not only himself but, also, the ones who love him most. Most of all he hurts the cause of Christ. He becomes a stumbling block in the way of unsaved sinners.

What are we to do with such a brother or sister. Are we to become stern and harsh? Are we to deal with them in anger? No! A thousand times, no! "Restore such a one in the spirit of meekness." Love will come nearer winning him back than all of your sternness and harshness.

Another thing, be careful about condemning your wayward friend. You might be tempted one day and do even worse than he (or she) did. Never kick a person when he is down. Rather, give him a lift. This is the Christian way.

II WORKS, PROOF OF FAITH
(James 1:22, 26, 27; 2:14-17)
Christianity consists of far more than just making a profession of faith. Too many people have done that and nothing more. Being a Christian calls for a faith that works. Many people think that because their names are on church rolls that they will find themselves

Additional Church Notes

in heaven after death. Many will be fooled by Jesus has said that, "Not everyone that saith Lord, Lord shall enter into heaven." Those people who never darken the church doors, nor support the ministry and missions; those who do not "remember the Lord's Day to keep it holy," had better take inventory of their spiritual stock. It is doubtful that they have ever been saved.

Note that we are admonished to "bridle our tongues." Here is a lesson for many. There are communities that have gained a bad reputation because of the evil tongues in those communities. Tattling, back biting and gossiping is found in the homes, schools, lodges, places of business and even in the churches. Reputations of good men and women are caused to be questioned by lying tongues. There is a place in hell for people with such tongues. Some of those people may be attending church regularly today.

Works do not save a person's soul. We are saved "by the grace of God through faith in Jesus Christ." (Eph. 2:8). That faith is a working faith. The person who refuses to serve Christ had better examine his salvation. He may not have salvation at all.

CONCLUSION: WORK SHOWS LOVE (1 John 3:16-18)
The Christian has love in his heart for God and his fellowman. Christ's death on Calvary's Cross shows God's love for us. We can show our love for our brethren by laying down our lives for them.

There are the aged who need our help. There are those who are sick and in sorrow who need our love and attention. There is need all around us. Friends, "let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth." (1 John 3:18).
